How to be a good citizen

Elizabeth Lin
2nd Grade

Do you know how to be a good citizen?You can be one by following these things at some specific places.

First of all, this is what you can do at school. You can be a good friend to people, especially those who don't have many friends. You can sit with lonely kids at lunch time, and invite them to a lunch bunch with you. Besides, you can also show that you care in the playground. You can invite kids to play with you or your group (if you have one).

Additionally, it is also important to be a good citizen in your neighborhood. You can clean up trash, do things that your neighbors will like. It's also nice to avoid things like yelling that's annoying. It is also nice to tell neighbors that they have packages at their front door.

Now you know how to be a good citizen. It will be great if you can take action and be one!